The Alhambra Declaration on Open Access has been announced in the wake of the workshop "Open Access to science information: policies for the development of OA in Southern Europe", held in Granada, Spain, from the 12th to the 14th of May 2010, organised by the FECYT (Spanish Foundation for Science and Technology). The goal of the Declaration is to develop and action plan for Open Access in Southern European countries. The text of the Declaration can be found here.